AIR NEW ZEALAND

pacificblue

international airline of australia

Welcome

From July, you'll start to see Air New Zealand and Virgin Australia's alliance become a reality, with the two airlines beginning code share services on each other's flights across the Tasman and on connecting domestic services in each country.

Linking Air New Zealand's network of 27 ports in New Zealand to Virgin Australia's network of 29 ports in Australia, the alliance will create the largest ever Australasian airline route network for your trans-Tasman customers. Your customers can also look forward to improved connectivity and more convenient flight times across many routes when the full schedule comes into effect from November.

Dedicated teams from both airlines have been working closely together to implement the alliance. Over the coming months you will see many more exciting developments as we fulfil our goal of giving your customers the greatest choice and the most seamless travel experience possible on a trans-Tasman journey.

This booklet provides all the information relating to the new alliance network, how to book your clients' itineraries, what experience they will have on each airline including the similarities and differences, as well as explaining how reciprocal frequent flyer programme benefits and lounge access will be facilitated.

If you have any questions, our respective sales teams will be more than happy to help.

Loyalty & Benefits

A frequent flyer partnership between Airpoints and Velocity will start alongside the Air New Zealand and Virgin Australia Alliance. The frequent flyer partnership covers both the Alliance routes and the wider airline networks, with the exclusion of Pacific Island flights.

THE FREQUENT FLYER PARTNERSHIP COVERS

- > earning Airpoints Dollars and Velocity Points
- > earning Status Points and Status Credits
- > redeeming Airpoints Dollars and Velocity Points
- > premium customer benefits

OTHER AIRLINE LOYALTY PROGRAMMES – Please note that any loyalty members of other airline frequent flyer programmes (e.g. other airline Star Alliance Gold members) will not be recognised or entitled to loyalty benefits on codeshare flights.

ACCRUAL OF AIRPOINTS DOLLARS, VELOCITY POINTS & STATUS POINTS/CREDITS

From the Alliance operational launch date Airpoints and Velocity members will be able to book reward flights with either airline for travel once the alliance is operational (excluding Pacific Island flights).

When the alliance is launched operationally an Airpoints Member will earn Airpoints Dollars for flying on any regularly scheduled Virgin Australia Group of Airlines operated flight which carry the NZ, VA or DJ code (excluding Pacific Island flights).

Similarly Virgin Australia will offer Velocity Points accrual benefits and Status Credits in accordance with the rules of the Velocity Program which carry the NZ code (excluding Pacific Island flights).

Airpoints members must purchase an NZ fare to earn Airpoints Status Points. Velocity members can earn Status Credits on the NZ or DJ fare structure.

There will be no reciprocal earning, redemption or premium benefits on Pacific Island flights operated by Air New Zealand, Pacific Blue or Polynesian Blue.

Air New Zealand will be introducing a new Airpoints earning structure later this year which will allow Airpoints members to earn Airpoints Dollars on all The Works and Works Deluxe products including on Smart Saver fares.

As an interim offer for new bookings for travel on trans-Tasman flights from August, 5 Airpoints Dollars will be earned on any The Works Smart Saver fares and 10 Airpoints Dollars will be earned on Works Deluxe Smart Saver fares.

When you enter a Velocity membership number into the GDS PNR with a NZ flight, it must be prefixed with the carrier code of DJ.

The number will be validated and the relevant tier status will be recognised in the NZ PNR so NZ can deliver the agreed benefits relating to the tier.

This number will also be sent to Velocity so the customer can accrue on eligible NZ flights.

When you enter an Airpoints frequent flyer number into a Virgin Australia booking, it must be prefixed with the carrier code of NZ. Virgin Australia is currently reviewing the Velocity programme and will be re-launching the programme later this year.

Benefits offered by each airline when their members travel on their own marketed and operated flights may differ from the reciprocal benefits shown below.
